This is the part that looks tricky but once you do it you will find it is actually quite easy. I use the end of my exacto knife but a pen or pencil is fine. Again I use 26 guage craft wire and I like it the best you can use which ever you prefer.

1. Hold the end of the 26 guage wire with your finger and make 4 complete wraps around the pencil .
2. Cut the wire off at the 5th .

You should now have a piece of wire which looks like this.

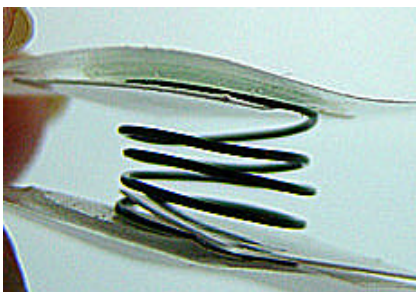

Using a glue dot (I use 1/2" dots) gently put one end of the wire into the dot .

From scraps of your paper left from cutting out the design cut two squares just large enough to cover the glue dot – about 1/2" x 1/2".

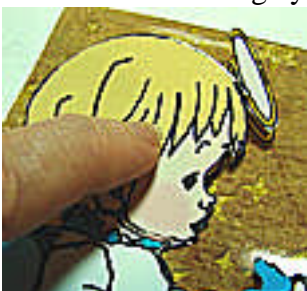

Slip one pircce over the glue dot and first coil of the wire. It should look like this.

Repeat this procedure with the other end.

Peel off one end of the wire with its glue dot (sometimes you have to get your finger nail in there as they are very sticky) making sure if any glue dot hangs over that you fold it back onto the little piece of paper then stick it to the backside of the image you want to wobble.

Now carefully peel off the other end in the same manner and stick it to your main image lining up the image like so...

Your image will now Wobble when flicked with a finger and spring back into position.

This will fold for mailing.

Add the enclosed Salutation Tag and you're done.

Cool or what, and so much fun to receive!

Some cards have only the head that wobbles and other have a larger portion that wobbles fun for everyone.
